CAREY, Oct. 16.—A Carey man, First Lieutenant Kenneth L. Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Payne, was pilot of a B52G jet bomber which disappeared in the Atlantic ocean during Saturday's exercise Sky Shield II. Lieutenant Payne's parents have gone to Goldsboro, N.C., to be with their son's wife. The younger Payne and his wife have one child about 2 years old. Mrs. Payne also is from Carey. Five civil air patrol wings joined the air force and coast guard Monday in a wide search of the Atlantic for the missing plane. Disappearance of the bomber, eight men and an observer, was a successful major test of North American air defenses.

Last reported position of the plane was over the Atlantic. The nuclear-capable plane

Air force men and coast guard planes were searching both over and as far as 800 miles as the hope survivors might be in life rafts. The bombing was U.S. Canadian and British planes that took part in the 12-hour mock aerial war.

The bomber piloted by Lieutenant Payne was listed officially missing at 2 a.m. Saturday. His plane had been exhausted.

The plane and crew were attached to the 42nd Air Wing of the eighth air force at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, Goldsboro, N.C. Lieutenant Payne was westernmost

Raft Sighted

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (UPI)—The coast guard reported today that a small wooden raft had been sighted by a fleet of planes seeking an air force bomber that disappeared over the North Atlantic during Operation Sky Shield II.

The air force planes sighted the raft at an undetermined distance off Cape May, N.J. There was no immediate indication whether the raft bore survivors.

IBADAN, Nigeria, Oct. 16 (UPI)—A postcard that went astray has given the American peace corps its first black eye in the field. Nigerian university students demanded Sunday that the corps unit sent to teach Nigerians be expelled because of criticism of primitive living conditions in this year-old African republic written by an enthusiastic—but "thoughtless"—girl in the group. Her postcard home, dropped accidentally on the campus, stirred 1,000 students at Ibadan university to an angry demonstration denouncing the American volunteers as "agents of imperialism."

Margery Michelmore, 23, Smith college honor graduate from Foxboro, Mass., quickly apologized to the university authorities for writing the "thoughtless" postcard and offered to resign from the corps in an attempt to quiet the uproar.

Air force Director Sargent

Levitt said in Washington he had learned President Kennedy was assured by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower that the shipment of surplus Saber jets to Yugoslavia was in the national interest.

"General Eisenhowe

said to have told President Kennedy,

"that the planes were obsolescent and would never be used in a major war."

"She just wanted to help the country and ease world tensions," her father said. "It was what she wanted to do—it had no objective, it was unthinking politically minded and certainly would not do that with intent."

Sen. Church Begins Tour

Of Counties

ST. MARIE, Oct. 16 (UPI)—Idaho Democratic Sen. Frank Church addressed a joint chamber of commerce and Kiwanis club here today on the first stop of a northern Idaho "courtesy tour."

Church explained that he would spend at least two hours each day at county courthouses meeting the public before making his regular appearances before various organizations.

The junior senator spent the afternoon in the Bremet County courthouse talking to various persons and planned to speak at a public meeting tonight in the local Orange hall.

The senator's wife and administrative assistant, Mrs. Mary Howes, will go with him. Church said he would visit all 44 counties in the state before the end of the year.

He will spend tomorrow in Shoshone county, including the afternoon at the courthouse in Wallace.

T. F. Sun Valley Service Curtailed

BOISE, Oct. 16 (UPI)—The Idaho power and light commission today gave Sun Valley Steam and Electric Falls, authority to reduce service between Twin Falls and Sun Valley temporarily for four days a week.

The T. F. Sun will cut its service and monopoly subcommittees, headed by Kefauver, began three days of testimony on patent aspects of a Kefauver bill which he said aimed lower drug prices.

Before the hearing could begin, the chairman clashed with two Republican members over his review of the hearings.

One fundamental fact disclosed that by any test and under any standard, the profits in the ethical drug industry are excessive and unreasonable," Kefauver said.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois called the Kefauver statement "very unfortunate." He said he "saw the impression of a subcommittee conclusion" rather than one senator's views.

Sen. Roman R. Hruska, R-Neb., said he was confident the subcommittee had drafted its conclusions. It would not decide drug prices and profits are too high "by any test and under any standard."

NEWS BULLETINS

GALDWELL, Oct. 16 (UPI)—Mayor Ed Simmerman disclosed today that the city of Caldwell has lost $410 because of "some procedures used within the police department" and said he will seek appointment of a new chief. Simmerman, in a statement to newsmen, said "proper steps have been taken with the entire company for the recovery of $400 of this amount." It was learned the city expects to recover the money on a bond issued for the office of police chief.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (UPI)—Industrial output dropped a full point in September to 116 per cent of the 1957 average, mostly because of auto strikes and Hurricane Carla, the federal reserve board announced today. This was the first drop in the index since TORONTO, Oct. 16 (UPI)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson and challenger Tom McNeely, Arlington, Mass., signed official contracts today for a title fight and for a rematch if McNeely should score an upset. They will meet in a 15-round at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens, Dec. 4. The title fight will be telecast to theaters in Canada and the United States in a closed circuit.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (UPI)—The New York Yankees today bought the veteran Robin Roberts from the Philadelphia Phillies. The Yanks announced it was a straight cash deal and the amount of money was not disclosed.

Presidents of U.S., Finland Hold Session

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (UPI)—President Urho Kekkonen of Finland, the Soviet Union's westernmost land-door neighbor, arrived today for a three-day visit with President Kennedy and his wife.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy arrived at the airbase 10 minutes before Kekkonen's plane landed. Mrs. Kennedy joined in welcoming the Finnish president and his wife.

After the airport welcoming ceremony, the Kennedy and the Kekkonen flew by helicopter to the White House, where they lunched.

Prince Will Fly To Laos Ritual

PLAINES DES JARDES, Laos, Oct. 16 (UPI)—Neutralist Prince Souphan Phouma will fly to the Lao capital Vientiane on Oct. 18 to attend the Pheung Xay Wednesday to be named premier-delegate, provided transportation can be arranged in time for his 160-man suite and bodyguards.

The territorial date was set to day as representatives of the three factions met at this insular air base in northern Laos.

They also agreed that Souphan's retinues would accompany his plane in aircraft provided by the neutralist control committee. Since he operates only two aircraft, it was feared the transportation problem could delay a royal audience.

This is a tricky question because the issue of providing ICI with its own transport has long been the political football at the Geneva conference.

Crash Probe Is Sought by U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 16 (UPI)—Four Asian nations and Venezuela called today for investigation into all the conditions and circumstances connected with the Rego Air plane crash that killed Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and 13 others.

They voted in a draft resolution at the general assembly to be held in New York this week.

"There is much concern in the world in regard to this tragedy,"

We Might Find Out

Burley has been the scene of two major political talks recently, both talk centering on the so-called wilderness bill. Gov. Robert E. Smylie kicked off the exchange with a major speech in which he lambasted the wilderness bill as a "monstrous betrayal of Idaho's future." Many interpreted the governor's talk on a topic of national significance and local interest as an indication Governor Smylie is considering running for the U.S. Senate next year.

Sen. Frank Church, whose senate seat Governor Smylie would be seeking, chose Burley as the place to answer the governor's contention. Apparently Senator Church, realist that he is, recognized that Governor Smylie poses the only major threat to reelection.

If nothing else, the Smylie-Church exchange assured that the wilderness bill will be one of the major issues should Governor Smylie decide to make his bid for the U.S. senate. With Smylie opposing the measure and Church favoring it, there's the nagging thought that Smylie will have the advantage.

The theme of Senator Church's answer is that the wilderness bill would pose no threat of a federal land grab, the phrase he uses to describe Governor Smylie's stand. He explains that it would delegate administration of wilderness areas presently owned by the federal government to congress rather than existing administrative agencies.

Unfortunately, the average Idahoan may not see a great deal of difference, but might feel an administrator on the scene would be more sympathetic and understanding than congressmen who have never been in Idaho and probably never will.

So far as public opinion of the wilderness bill is concerned, nothing has occurred so far to give any inkling of how it would be regarded by voters. Most of the people who have voiced opinions on the measure would have to admit to bias, and this includes both Governor Smylie and Senator Church. Others either have had something to gain or something to lose.

Under the circumstances, the person in the middle has little choice except to listen and read before making up his own mind. No Idahoan has had the chance to express his preference by secret ballot.

So if the wilderness bill should wind up as one of the major issues in next year's senatorial campaign, perhaps Idaho will find out just what the public thinks of the plan. It would be even better if Idahoans could express their opinions solely on that issue, without all the clouding sidelights of a political campaign.

Such a determination of public opinion probably would serve no particular purpose. Idahoans will recall that election results in Idaho in recent years have put the state on record as squarely opposed to public power, yet the public power advocates ignore the record and go right on pressuring for their pet projects. But sometimes it is nice to know what the public thinks.

LONG CRISIS

President Kennedy's somber warning of no easy or early halt to the East-West crisis points out to every American that life under the threatening cloud of war may go on for years. So long as two beliefs are so diametrically opposed as communism and capitalism, the term "peaceful coexistence" is a phony and a farce. There can be no compromise between tyranny and freedom.

The alternatives that could change the air of crisis are obvious and few. The most obvious and least likely alternative is an agreement for complete disarmament of all nations under a guaranteed inspection plan that would permit no cheating, hence would be acceptable to all concerned. Under present circumstances, that's no more than a dream.

Another obvious means of changing the status quo is war, almost too horrible to even mention in this age of nuclear weapons.

A third course is the one that has taken shape, namely, an armed truce with the ever-present danger of exploding into armed conflict. Short of the possibility of war, an armed truce appears to be the most people can expect on the world scene in the foreseeable future. With both sides in such a truce armed with the most horrible weapons ever devised by humans, everyone in the world can expect to live in times of extreme international tension. And always there will be the danger of war exploding anyway.

That's what President Kennedy means when he says, "We move through a period of maximum hazard."

The warning should be kept in mind by every American every hour of every day. The penalty for slipping back into the paralyzing complacency that gripped the United States for so long could be slavery or worse.

"...we're in the most dangerous time in the history of the human race," President Kennedy points out.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By J. F. TREGORE

WASHINGTON — With President Kennedy's blessing, some top administration officials are conducting an intensive crusade among the proprietors of restaurants which lie U.S. route 40 in nearby Maryland.

They are asking the proprietors to campaign that it is un-American in the atomic age for route 40 cafes to seat whites at tables and refuse Negroes to take-out service.

While this kind of White House intervention would seem highly unusual, the administration takes the view that its evangelism is downright practical.

EMBARRASSES GOVERNMENT — Route 40, north of Baltimore, is most closely associated with the United Nations in New York City. And it is along this stretch that cafe discrimination has proved embarrassing to the White House and to dark-skinned diplomats commuting to and from the U.N. Despite the fact of the administration's position, some of them were able to stay in their executive offices tending the store. But as one White House official told this reporter: "If we wait for Maryland to act, we may wait a long time."

It is true that Maryland has a Democratic governor in J. Millard Tawes and a legislature almost 99 per cent Democratic. It might seem politically reasonable to expect that restaurant discrimination could be erased with one quick law.

NO PIONEERS? — But Maryland politicians are attuned to a conservative viewpoint on racial matters. They do not want to become pioneers either, and are privately grumbling over the effort to push them into Mr. Kennedy's "new frontier."

Nonetheless, the push is on—with administration aides exhorting the owners to higher patriotism and administration politicians applying more basic backroom pressure on Tawes and the party hierarchy.

So far, the converts have been few.

Two dozen of the 70 cafe owners attended a meeting at the Maryland Hotel, a day ago. Eight reluctantly agreed to be "drafted" to serve on a committee to explore the Whites-only seating policy. The meeting was run by Bert L. Bernhard, director of the U.S. civil rights commission; Pedro Sanjuan, assistant protocol officer of the U.N.; and Joseph D. Tawes, U.S. attorney for Maryland.

GRIM THREAT — Sanjuan, who has personally visited most of the route 40 establishments, said over and over this grim message: "If you don't want to be a red flag, you'll have to capitulate some day, we had better start wondering what the uncommitted countries of the world really think about American democracy in action."

Sanjuan's opinion: Most of the restaurant owners are willing to drop the racial barriers, even though along the way it does it at the same time and providing business won't be ruined.

The owners' committee is supposed to work toward a mutually satisfactory date. To help them, Bernhard has promised economic data showing what's happened to eating places in which they have voiced their views, which have opened their tables to white and Negroes. They say they have continued to thrive.

PAYS DIVIDENDS — Washington newspapers say the same point, calling attention to the prosperity of capital restaurants under an open-door policy.

The owners' committee is intended to benefit African and Asian diplomats, the National Association for Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) finds no affront to it.

"If the bars come down, they come down for everybody," said Clarence Mitchell, Washington director of the NAACP. "No restaurant would put up a sign that said 'Negroes in turbans only'."

Under prodding from the White House, Governor Tawes has come out for the "principle" that it would find out just what the public thinks of the plan. It would be even better if Idahoans could express their opinions solely on that issue, without all the clouding sidelights of a political campaign.

Such a determination of public opinion probably would serve no particular purpose. Idahoans will recall that election results in Idaho in recent years have put the state on record as squarely opposed to public power, yet the public power advocates ignore the record and go right on pressuring for their pet projects. But sometimes it is nice to know what the public thinks.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

FULL USE OF SCHOOLS

Plans of City Recreation Director Kelvin Nelson to turn over the former Idaho National Guard as a recreation center deserve the plaudits of the citizenry. It was an excellent stroke by the city administration and the mayor's recreation committee when it converted this little used facility to a recreation park last year.

Director Nelson's plan is a good reciprocal program between the city and the school district, however, for maximum use of facilities for community recreation is a tall of a much steeper pitch. Idaho Falls has at times enjoyed an unusually rich relationship between city and school districts, and the community to achieve maximum use, is a case in point.

School officials, however, have sometimes been derisively defensive in use of school facilities. This past summer Athletic Director Jack Young recommended closing schools for the summer baseball league practice. The citizens responded by both the high school and the community to achieve maximum use, is a case in point.

For use of these facilities, the schools are entitled to a fee. But to cover maintenance and extraordinary services, the fees should not extend beyond the time when the students would not realize full recreational use of school facilities within this formula. School activities, of course, must always have priority.

Most of those who use the school gymnasiums and athletic fields are taxpayers on both the city and the school rolls—Idaho Falls Register.

THE SUPPLY RUNS SHORT

The department of interior report that 60,000 Americans went hunting and fishing during 1960.

Within the last five years the number of women who have gone hunting increased 100 percent, and the number of feminine fishermen increased 100 percent.

These are happy statistics, and it may be presumed that half of the sportspersons and sportswomen at least caught one fish during the open season. Nobody knows for sure or how many of the 60,000 were "repeaters." Accurate statistics are hard to come by, but the number of deer taken were taken during the 1960 big game hunting season in Utah—the Utah fish and game department checkers counted them. Many more animals escaped than were shot.

The situation is not so bad in Idaho. In 1960 nearly 3,000 deer died in the country, some of them concentrated in relatively small areas.

The bright interior department statistics are dimmed considerably by the fact that there simply is not enough game to support the demand to supply the demands. This can be seen in artistic ponds and many of those caught nowadays are hatchery-grown and haven't had time to adjust to the wild surroundings before they caught and carried away.

The situation makes me sad by any game, the pressure for insuring every hunter a trophy—within reasonable distance from a paved road—is becoming one of this country's most serious since "advancing civilization" is rapidly reducing the ranges and browse of the fleet-footed animals.—Salt Lake Tribune

SHIPPED IT, MAYBE

This story of the California man and son who crashed on the Idaho-Nevada border and happily were able to walk away from the crash intrigued me.

Their car had stalled and had hit a deer and had skinned it just before departing.

Now, did they come all that way in a plane just to get a deer? I wonder about the story.

New England Has Preview Of Cold Snap

By United Press International
New England got a taste preview of winter snow and cold today while the Pacific coast offered re-runs of mid-summer's record heat.

Between the nation's two extremes, Indian summer's engagement was extended and the weather was all but perfect.

At least 10 inches of snow covered parts of the northeast and at least three traffic deaths were blamed on slippery highways in the last 24 hours yesterday.

The heaviest snow fell on Maine and New Hampshire, but the storm belt extended south into Pennsylvania and New York.

Temperatures were below the mists in some areas.

A heat wave which brought 100-degree record temperatures as far north as the San Francisco Bay area yesterday continued in California today but the U.S. weather bureau said relief was on the way.

Long Beach, Calif., was the main heat spot yesterday with a sizzling 111 degrees. The mercury hit 104 at Los Angeles, 100 at normally chilly Monterey, 97 at San Diego, and at 95 at Phoenix, which holds the record for heat in Los Angeles and Long Beach than in Death Valley.

Pay Increase In Harvester Firm Okayed

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 (UPI)—The United Workers union pay increase of 16 cents an hour agreed over three years from International Harvester company last night in an agreement which ends a month-long strike by 10,000 workers with unions with the nation's auto makers.

The settlement, to be voted on this afternoon by the UAW's national executive board, ended the threat of a strike scheduled for 7 a.m. (local time) today at 14 plants. UAW locals were notified of the settlement by telegram and were suspended strike plans pending the ratification vote.

The pact also is subject to ratification by some 32,000 UAW members in about 14 plants. UAW officials hope to have complete ratification by next Sunday.

In addition to pay boosts, the contract provides major gains in pensions, hospital and medical coverage, sick pay, vacation benefits, Pat Greathouse, UAW vice president, and William Reilly, Harvester's labor relations manager, said in a joint statement.

The agreement came after 12 hours of steady bargaining yesterday. Company and union officials had engaged in almost daily negotiations since the old three-year contract expired Sept. 30, but was extended until the union served termination notice Oct. 10, effective today.

Legal Gold Speculation Is Possible

WASHINGTON 27—If you are a frustrated gold bug seeking to speculate against the dollar, there is a legitimate way to do it. Be warned, however, that Dr. Robert H. Triffin, chairman of the other responsible financial experts advise against it.

A little known section in the little known regulations of the American Mint says coins made before April 8, 1960, and those made later—all foreign—which are officially deemed to be rare.

Gold dealers have been advertising this to people interested in buying gold coins. The dealers sell them from stock or buy them abroad and charge a fee or commission.

The advertising literature of one such dealer urges people to buy gold coins on the assumption that the price will go up. Since it will have to raise the price it pays for gold, $35 an ounce since 1960.

Such a step is unlikely for fear of the future.

This is the opinion of experts both in and out of the government. It is the policy of President Kennedy who pledged himself to end the use of gold in the United States to maintain the $35 gold price.

An American citizen who wants to speculate on such a possibility can buy gold from the U.S. treasury or any other source. Such purchase or ownership is prohibited under the law.

President Eisenhower extended the ban to include gold outside this country as well as gold within the United States.

However, American speculators can buy gold imports gold coined minted before April 8, 1960, the day the United States went off the gold standard. The U.S. mint turned out gold coins during the days and years after those sand 1960 $10 gold eagles ever went into circulation.

Ford Plants' Work Force Will Return

DETROIT, Oct. 16 (UPI)—The Ford Motor company aimed to start work again at its 130,000 production workers back at their jobs by Wednesday. The United Auto Workers union has agreed to let the unions to call off strikes at all but two of Ford's 88 plants.

Polls Revive Demo Effort In N.J. Race

WASHINGTON. Oct. 16 (UPI) — Encouraged in their private polls, Democrats are putting new emphasis into efforts to defeat Republican nominee John F. P. Mitchell in the New Jersey governor's race. Mitchell, former secretary of state under President Kennedy, is leading in the Eisenhower campaign generally as reported by the New York Times. A few contestants that had national significance in this year's elections, however, held the office since 1952 and was not eligible to run again this year.

Democrats in national headquarters here are talking more and more confidently about the possibility of a "Nov. 7 victory which would be a blow to the public revival hopes of the industrialists. They say their polls show the times making significant gains.

If Mitchell can win the New Jersey gubernatorial election, the Republicans hope to go into the 1962 presidential election with New York and New Jersey state house control, which would fit in with its organization's benefits denied to the cuts.

The Republicans already have the Massachusetts gubernatorial, which they will seek to hold next year. Governor A. Rockefeller of N.Y. will be a candidate for reelection next year. There will be strong Republican bids in 1962 to turn the "Demos" out in Pennsylvania and Connecticut.

In 1962, President Kennedy carried Massachusetts by more than a half million votes. But he won New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Connecticut by relatively narrow margins. All had Democratic governors except New York, where Kennedy got 52.8 per cent of the popular vote. His total in New Jersey was only 40.4 per cent of the vote. It was 51.2 per cent in Pennsylvania and 53.7 per cent in Connecticut.

Haddad made the statement at the opening of the conference at the Park Sheraton hotel.

"It is now clear that there will be more than food in training or overseas within the time schedule indicated by the Congress and the President," Haddad said.

He didn't expect an answer, but he got one last week.

Rupert Plans Farm Forum Meet Oct. 27

RUFERT, Oct. 16—Plans for a National Farm Forum here Oct. 27 are announced by Ted Astor, chairman.

Astor reports representatives from at least three national farm organizations will speak at the forum at the Twin Falls county high school at 7 p.m. Friday, Oct. 27. W. E. Polk, head of the agricultural economics department at the University of Idaho, is moderator.

Oren Lee Staley, Corning, president of the National Farmers Organization, and Kenneth Hood, Chicago, assistant secretary and director of the commodity division of the American Farm Bureau federation, will be present. Astor said, "A representative from the National Farmers Union is expected."

A discussion of national farm issues will be held to inform farmers of problems facing the industry and to seek solutions to the problems.

In a letter to the forum group, Staley points out that members of the national farm groups felt responsible to the farmer, and that he felt the forum would be the best place to discuss the policies of various farm groups and farm policies.

Astор received a message commanding the forum from Ezra Taft Benson, former Secretary of Agriculture. He said he was pleased to know of the forum, and felt there was a real need for farm issues to be reviewed, adding that farmers, if well informed, can make sound conclusions concerning the problems of the industry.

Directors of the Rupert Chamber of Commerce endorsed the forum and pledged their support to the forum, which had been pushed forward by "representations in Minidoka and Cassia counties, and by extension agents."

Brain Chemistry Held as Key to Mental Illnesses

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16 (UPI)—Mental illness will not be fully conquered until scientists know more about the chemistry of the brain, according to an Illinois research.

Dr. Percival Bailey, director of research for the Illinois department of mental hygiene, told a UCLA brain research symposium last week that while biological and social factors as a cause of mental illness, chemistry is at the root of it all.

"There is no twisted thought without a twisted molecule," Bailey said.

Benefits Aren't Being Claimed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (UPI)—Millions of dollars in social security "benefits" are going unclaimed because many people do not know they are eligible, according to the health education branch of the Social Security Administration.

A spokesman said amendments to the social security law are coming so rapidly that many people, newly eligible for relief under the 1960 amendments, have not claimed their payments.

The 1960 amendments included a new section in the law that entitled to qualify for payments and added as beneficiaries the survivors of workers who died after March 31, 1958, as well as dependent widowers of women workers who died before September, 1960.

U.S. Bomber Force Might Be Replaced

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 (UPI)—The Kennedy administration is preparing to scrap the defense department's manned bomber and may switch to an electronic nuclear weapon delivery, the Chicago Sun-Times reported today.

In a dispatch from the newspaper's Washington correspondent, Thomas Powers, the U.S. Air Force and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has decided the bomber soon will be obsolete.

However, Ross wrote, final decision is being delayed pending study of defense objectives and intelligence data on Soviet anti-aircraft defenses.

"But as of this moment it is known that McNamara has seen nothing to convince him that the bomber is not useful," he continued.

He said the bombers were based beyond the life of the currently operating B-57s and B-58s.

Ross said McNamara's stand was bolstered by Saturday's operational sky exercise of the North American air defense command.

The training exercise supported intelligence data that Soviet air defense would be able to destroy up to 90 per cent of the bombers which could be sent against America in time of war, the newspaper reported.

1,200 Cheer as School of Red Pilots Blasted

DALLAS, Oct. 16 (UPI)—The first meeting of the National Intermountain convention—formed to protest the training of Yugoslav pilots by the United States—drew about 1,200 persons Sunday night.

Frank B. McGehee, chairman, told the crowd "the entire United States is looking to see how indigenous and resolute we are."

McGehee, a garage owner, was one of several persons who drove to Perrin air force base near Sherman Friday night to protest the training of Yugoslav pilots at the base.
